

Through PSHE we learn about developing confidence and responsibility and making the most of our abilities

We learn to talk and write about our opinions, and explain our views, on issues that affect us and society.

We learn to recognise how important we are and to be proud of our achievements, we learn to understand and own our mistakes, making problems smaller.

We learn how to have a go at new things.

We find out about the range of jobs carried out by people we know, and to understand how we can develop skills to make our choices about the future. We learn about looking after money and realise that things we might want in the future means we have to save and the money can be put in a bank..

In our PSHE lessons
we learn about lots
of different topics.
This policy is written by children for children! We learn about lots of different things.

What do you think we learn? (look at the pictures on this leaflet to help you).

How do teachers know if we are achieving in PSHE?

They observe how we are learning and what we say and do

We sometimes complete pupil and staff interviews/ questionnaires

How do we learn?

Through lessons circle time
