Latest Learning!

This week we are proud to showcase our science learning in the newsletter! We really value and take pride in our science curriculum at Bankside. Science is such an important subject, which teaches our children a wealth of skills including; enquiry, investigation, communication and analysis to name just a few. Our science learning is practical and hands on; our pupils relish science exploration and they are curious to explore concepts and the world around them.

Swinsty Reservoir!

This week Green Base went on an educational visit to Swinsty Reservoir. They travelled by coach to the picturesque North Yorkshire countryside, ready to embark on an exciting adventure. They had a brilliant time in the outdoors, identifying trees from their leaves, going on an autumn scavenger hunt and they even saw deer drinking from the water! It certainly was a memorable experience for the children.
